THE SUCCESSOR TO TY COBB

DAVE ROBERTSON

Here is the man who is destined to fill the shoes of Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the Georgia Peach, when said Tyrus shall have lost his butting eye, his fielding hand, and his fleetness of foot, according to some scribes of the national pastime. This gentleman is none other than "Davy" Robertson, of the Giants, of whom John McGraw remarked: "He can be as good as he wants to be." It seems that the want is particularly strong in Robertson this senson. Some of the writers say that Robertson is faster on the bases than Cobb. Be that as it may, he is a mighty fast man, but he lacks the craft of Cobb. That will come with experience, and in another year or two Robertson may occupy the place in the National League that Ty occupies in the American organization.

Wolverton, who was injured serious-ly in an automobile accident, decided that he could manage his team just as well from the hospital bed as the bench. Wires were installed from the Seals' dugout at the baseball park to Wolverton's bedside, and he was kept informed of every move of the oppos-ing teams. When his club was out of town a telegraph wire was substituted for the phone, and the disabled mana-ger made suggestions, followed the play, and in general dictated the field policy of the Seals, in the same man-ner he would have had he been on the players' bench.

NEGRO RUNNER DONE

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., August 8 .-Howard P. Drew, of this city, the track athlete, announced his intention to retire from racing in a signed statement published here to-day. Telegraphing from the Panama-Pacific Exposition field, where yesterday he was beaten in the 100-yard dash of the senior Amateur Athletic Union track and field meet, Drew said:

"I was bothered with my legs a great deal to-day in the race, so that I pulled up lame at the finish. I have been in poor physical condition, for I now weigh only 150 pounds and that is much below my normal. I want to say right here that I am through with open competition after this year."

Manager Lee Fohl says that Terry dropped back to seventh by losing a double-header Saturday, while St. Louis was winning one game. Philadelphia won a single game in one week, making five victories in twenty-six attempts. No American club representing that city in years has done so poorly.

American League Record.

In the American League, Washington showed excellent form. The Senators took six out of seven games, the winboys in the world, but he is out of place in the Federal League. Why be frivolous at a funeral?

Even though a flock of ball players be sentenced to play in Pittsburgh, it is cruel and unusual to call them Stogies.

Ivy Wingo's batting average is what his golf card ought to be, while his Twenty-one victories out of the last thirty-one games played is Washington's record—a pace slightly better than either Boston's or Detroit's within the same period. The Senators gained little on the Red Sox, and the Tigers, however, as the leaders, took three out of four games, and Detroit winning five out of seven, passed over the heads of Chicago to second place, and attained within a game and a half of Boston.

New York, which won three out of four, was the only second division.

The record in each league of games played, won and lost, with runs, hits. errors and men left on bases, is as
